hours will find much satisfaction
in this school.

The school is very fortunate in securing such a splendid corps of volunteer teachers who are sacrificing time that might be spent in work in their own homes. Workers with the beginners and primary groups will be Mrs. Tedd Marriott, Mrs. Pearl Lehman, Mary Pilcher and Lillian Snyder. Junior department workers will be Mrs. B. A. Erickson and Miss Loretta Lafferty. Intermediate and senior department workers will be Mrs. Frank U. Smith, Mrs. Fred Aldrich, A. H. McClane and Ray McClane. It is hoped that a few others will also volunteer to help with the primary and older groups. The pianist for the school will be Miss Catherine Welch and the secretary will be Mrs. O. C. O'Rear. We owe much to the willingness and co-operation of these people.

The vacation school movement is steadily growing throughout the United States year by year. Parents are usually glad to have their children spending their vacation hours under good supervision in a profitable way and children are glad to have something definite to do during their long summer days. The vacation school not only instructs the children in the better way of life but actually helps them through activity to put these teachings into practice.

FUNERAL AT GARDINER FOR CAMP TALBOT INFANT

Charles William Bush, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertis Bush of Camp Talbot, is to be buried tomorrow in the Gardiner cemetery. The little one lived only about nine hours after its birth Tuesday evening.

Men don't always reap either the benefits or the penalties of what they do, until a considerable time has passed over their deeds, either foolish or wise as the case may be.

ROBERT HARR.

Valedictorian of the 1932 graduating class of Leland-Quilcene High School at Quilcene, who led a class of twelve graduates and distinguished himself by scholastic and other activities.

ters, Dayton Trygstad, Frances McInnes, Marion Beck, Howard Reid and David Horne.

Robert Harr was active throughout his high school career in different school activities as well as leading in scholarship. He served as president of the high school student body, was a member of the Torch Honor Society, took part in dramatics and athletics and also found time to act as editor of the school paper.

The salutatorian, Hazel Jean Link, was likewise active in school activities during her high school career. She served as president of the Torch Honor Society, was active in dramatics and basketball, and a member of the girls' glee club.

Baccalaureate services for the class were held at the Quilcene Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, May 22. The sermon was de-
